4th Street Neighborhood Conservation Project Moves Ahead Following Design Review

By Kathy Reeder

Neighborhood Conservation Delegate

Glencarlyn 4th Street S residents (between S Kensington and S Illinois) are moving toward final vote on approving sidewalks, curbs and gutters and other street improvements following a March 22 design review meeting with Arlington County staff.

The county has mailed a packet to each tax record property owner in the two-block area, including minutes of the March 22 meeting, a final petition letter providing a detailed description of the project scope, and a detailed map of the project area. Homeowners are asked to vote "Yes" or "No" regarding support of the project.

If a property owner doesn't respond by the deadline of April 23, county staff will follow up at least once by USPS certified mail. Lack of a response will be counted as a "Yes" vote.

The schools need fields and the county needs fields, Kan-

The school board had considered the Kenmore site for locating one of two new high schools that will be built in the future, but chose schools that will be built in the near future, but chose other

Glencarlyn Day over the Years

By Julie Lee
President, Glencarlyn Citizens' Association

As we prepare once again for Glencarlyn Day, it is interesting to note how much has remained the same over the years. Reflecting on my own childhood memories and reviewing past Village Views, the first thing that came to mind is that MANY VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED to make Glencarlyn Days a success. Glencarlyn Day has always been about the Pancake Breakfast in the Park. In my youth, it was held in the park pavilion at the end of 4th St. The men cooked the most delicious pancakes over an open fire. When Capt Shepherd wasn't at sea, he was there leading the troops.

Florence Backus, David's mom, put on a puppet show in the park. I think this was an attempt to keep restless children from playing in the stream. It was always a great show, but we still went in the stream.

The costume Parade was a big deal. There was always the fire truck, old cars, and police with lights and an occasional siren. In more recent years, sometimes a marching band. There was a panel of judges stationed outside Glencarlyn Library to award prizes in various categories.

For many years there was a Saturday afternoon softball game at Kenmore. The Bike Rodeo and Carlin Hall Pre-school Fun Fair have come and gone. People still miss the cake walk! Of course the Potluck and Block Party with live music have been a wonderful addition to the festivities.

This year, Home tours, Garden tour, Ball Sellers Open House, Library Summer Kick-off, Moon Bounce and Sno-cones at Carlin Hall and Hotdogs and Pupusas+ at St John's Church continue as part of the celebration.

So mark Glencarlyn Days, June 1-2, on your calendar. Volunteer for one of the many fun and important activities. You can do it through the sign-up genius, or email/ call me directly.

Plan to attend as many of the activities as possible. Do something you haven't done before. And while you are attending, enjoying and appreciating all that Glencarlyn Days and Glencarlyn has to offer, think about what activities you would like to see at Glencarlyn Days 2019. It may be bringing back an old chestnut, like the softball game. Or it may be something entirely new. Let me know your ideas.

Remember- VOLUNTEER, attend, enjoy, appreciate, and most importantly PAY YOUR DUES. See you there!

our community and get caught up on the happenings in our neighborhood.
Light refreshments provided.

Ideas, News Tips?

The Village View is always looking for articles, stories or photos about people or activities in the neighborhood or schools. Also needed are events to include in the calendar. If you would like to contribute, send your submission to The Village View editor at gcaeditorial@gmail.com. Just remember to include Who, What, When, Where, Why, and How.

at least 60 percent of the linear frontage must vote "Yes". If the 60 percent requirement is met, county staff will continue design work and a recommendation for funding will be sought through the Neighborhood Conservation Advisory Committee.

County staff presenting the concept design on March 22 included Laura Simpson, NC Program Planner; Gino Squarciafico, Department of Environmental Services (DES) Design and Engineering Supervisor; Mohammed Elomary, Design Engineer; Tim McIntosh, NC Program Manager; and Jill Yutan, Landscape Architect.

Proposed improvements include a sidewalk on the north side of each block, and curb and gutter on both sides. The project will allow parking on both sides of the street, except for one stretch on the south side that will accommodate a mature tree.

Arlington County Engineering Design Supervisor Gino Squarciafico uses a smart board to detail aspects of the 4th and 5th street project.

South 5th street resident Kevin Dudley points to a location on the satellite photo of south 5th street and the Jefferson street intersection.

Other improvements include new driveway aprons for existing driveways, striped lines on the pavement to reinforce stop signs, pedestrian ramps connected to the sidewalks at each corner, and a possible line to link sump pumps to the storm drains.

Mature trees will be preserved, and existing vegetation will be replanted or replaced if a move is required. Where feasible, native flowering trees such as redbuds will be planted on county property.

In addition to the meeting minutes provided in the county packet sent to property owners, more questions and answers from the meeting can be viewed on the Glencarlyn.org website.

If there are additional questions, please contact Kathy Reeder, (703-820-3933 or kathleenreeder@comcast.net), or Laura Simpson, NC Program Planner (703-228-3813).

locations, the Arlington Career Center and the Education Center properties.

The effort to build new schools, including elementary and middle schools is driven by the need to accommodate up to 1,000 new students coming into the county annually.

Her comments were also set in the context of a growing school system trying to live within a tight budget.

"It's a very difficult year," Kanninen told the audience of neighborhood residents. County revenue cannot keep up with needs. "We are simply growing and changing as a community," she said.

On April 5, the school board approved a proposed FY 2019 operating budget of $637,184,475. A public hearing on the proposed budget was scheduled for April 19. The board is expected to adopt the financial plan on May 3, according to an APS press release. (for more go to: <https://www.apsva.us/post/school-board-approves-proposed-fy-2019-budget/>)

The GCA has expressed concern several times over the past couple of years over the possibility of a new high school being built on the site and increasing traffic risks and congestion. GCA

President Julie Lee told Kanninen that Glencarlyn residents were concerned not out of a 'not in my back yard' attitude. The top concerns are "safety and traffic and the (traffic) studies that need to be done on Carlin springs," Lee said.

Among the other topics Kanninen spoke about were:

- School walk zones — APS staff are working on proposals for expanding the walk zones (in which students walk to school rather than ride a bus) for elementary students while ensuring student safety. The goal is reducing the need for buses.
- A new direction on teaching: "How we work with students, how we think about" how students acquire the skills they need has changed. One example is Arlington Tech that brings together academics and hands-on technical skills.
- The APS strategic plan — required every six years, defining the mission, vision and core values goals and aspirations for students, staff, and the school system as a whole.

Kanninen, an environmental lawyer and author of childrens' books, joined the board in 2015.

Her term ends on Dec. 31. She is running for re-election.

State and County Election Year is Underway

By Sue Eisenfeld

Statewide and local elections are taking place this year for the U.S. Senate, U.S. House of Representatives, Arlington County Board, and Arlington Public School Board. If you're not sure you're registered to vote, check your status at: <https://vote.elections.virginia.gov/VoterInformation>.

The following are key dates in the election process.

May 21, 2018: Deadline to register to vote in the primary or update an existing registration.

June 5, 2018, 5 p.m.: Deadline to request an absentee ballot for the June primary elections to be mailed.

June 12, 2018: Primaries. Voting for either a Democratic candidate for the Arlington County Board or Republican candidate for U.S. Senate.

No Republicans are running for County Board; there is no Democrat U.S. Senate primary because the incumbent is running unopposed in his party. There is neither a Democratic nor Republican primary for the 8th District of the House of Representatives. Both candidates are running unopposed in their parties. The Independent candidate for School Board is also unopposed.)

October 15, 2018: Deadline for registering to vote in November's general election or updating a registration.

October 30, 2018, 5 p.m. Deadline to request an absentee ballot for the November general election to be mailed to you.

November 6, 2018: The general election.

The Glencarlyn Precinct votes at Kenmore Middle School. For more information about elections, visit: <https://vote.arlingtonva.us/elections/>.

deliver to your home. (Delivery of a full load—5 cubic yards—is $75.) Mulching reduces erosion and weed growth and moderates soil temperature and moisture levels. We do not recommend the use of wood mulch in your vegetable or annual flower beds as it can rob plants of nitrogen when mixed into the soil, but it is fine for pathways or as a light dressing around shrubs, trees, and in natural areas.

4) Try Composting. Your fall leaves are good as gold. Don't discard them. Shred them with your lawnmower and put them in garden beds like mulch or use them to make compost. All compost requires three basic ingredients:

1. Browns: carbon-rich dead leaves, dry hay and straw, shredded newspaper and cardboard;
2. Greens: nitrogen-rich materials such as grass clippings, vegetable waste, fruit scraps, crushed egg shells, tea bags, coffee grounds and filters; and
3. Water, which provides moisture to help break down the organic matter.

Note: We recommend against adding meat to your compost pile as the decomposition process can produce a foul smell that attracts flies, vermin, and neighborhood cats and dogs. It also slows down the composting process.

Turn your pile every few weeks, rotating the outside materials to the inside, and check moisture. Adequate water and warm temperatures will increase the rate at which the microbes work.

The author's garden in summer.

Shredding and chopping the materials that go into your pile will also speed up the process. When it's finished, your compost will be black and crumbly, like good soil, with a pleasant, earthy smell.

5) Plant a cover crop. I've started using cover crops in my vegetable garden and am a true believer. In late summer and fall, a few weeks before the first frost, I plant a "green manure"

The Spring real estate market has arrived, and the supply of homes is increasing so far in April and so is buyer activity, with an absorption rate of 1.5 months. It's a seller's market for sure and bidding wars do happen, although not at the pace they did a few years ago. Sellers have options on pricing strategies and most will view initial realistic positioning in a value range as the best strategy to attract educated buyers, who have easy access to available market data. Days on market is influential and impacts how buyers approach an offer. They don't have much leverage in the first few weeks and won't present lowball offers on a fresh commodity. Mortgage rates have held steady with current fixed rates averaging 4.5%. According to Freddie Mac, the average mortgage rate from the 1970s-2000 was about 7%, the average rate from 2000-2008 was 6% and since 2008 they've been between 3.5% to 4%.

Freddie Mac currently predicts that rates will reach about 5% by the end of 2018.

About 1/3rd of recent purchases in the area were made with less than 20% down payment. Conventional loans are available at 3%, 5%, 10% and 15% down. Some local lenders have special programs with 3% to 5% down using conventional financing and eliminate the monthly mortgage insurance payment. Other options are to avoid PMI (private mortgage insurance) are 80/20 (zero down), 80/15/5 (5% down) and 80/10/10 (10% down).

With low home inventory and strong buyer demand, the reputation of the mortgage lender is a critical component of any transaction. A pre-approval letter from a strong local lender is a key factor for winning a competitive bid. Some lenders can close a loan in 2 to 3 weeks, which is attractive to sellers. Need some advice on mortgage lenders and how to compete? Let's talk!

comprised of winter rye, field peas, ryegrass, crimson clover and hairy vetch.

Crimson clover, an upright winter annual legume that grows 1-3', sports striking crimson blossoms. And can be used as a cover crop.

In the spring, I cut the crop before it seeds, let it dry out on top of the bed, and then turn it into the soil. After a couple of weeks, the bed is ready for planting. Cover crops provide erosion control and soil cover over the winter. They add organic matter and nutrients, and break up hard soils, improving the tilth. The regular addition of compost, cover crops, and other organic materials to your garden can improve your soil to a point at which the need for additional fertilizers is greatly reduced. As you move through the seasons—pruning, dividing, staking, deadheading, cutting back and thinning your garden plants— pay attention to the soil. When you nurture your soil, you give your plants their best shot at producing flowers, foliage, fruits and seeds in beauty and abundance.
