Use it or lose it. That's the stark reality facing Glencarlyn residents who want Glencarlyn Branch Library to remain open.

Because our neighborhood library is one of Arlington's smaller branches, county leaders periodically propose closing it to save money. Last year, the library director proposed keeping Glencarlyn and Cherrydale branches closed until July 2022 to save the county $881,000 in its fiscal year 2022 budget.

Strenuous pushback from our community helped defeat this recommendation, but only because Arlington secured additional pandemic-related funding from the federal government.

In arguing to open Glencarlyn Library on schedule, we pointed to its critical location to three public schools and surrounding communities who need it. The children's story hour and other library programs are extremely popular and well attended, even by families outside the neighborhood. The library also provides afterschool study and other resources for Kenmore students as well as adults. Aided by its attractive garden, the library serves as a hub for our community.

GCA Meetings Are IMPORTANT

By Julie Lee, GCA President

The Glencarlyn Civic Association meets on the 1st Monday of every month, at 7:30pm, Sept through May. (Except in Jan.) Pre-Covid, we met in person at Carlin Hall. We are currently meeting via zoom and discussing the possibility of returning to in-person meetings next year. These meetings are important. County Board and School Board members, as well as other County representatives, come speak with us. We offer a variety of other programs and speakers that are of interest. This is your opportunity to learn about what is going on in Arlington and in Glencarlyn, to have your questions answered and to voice your opinion.

Over the years at our meetings, the GCA has addressed important issues such as school redistricting and new school locations, Glencarlyn Library funding, traffic safety, and the use and preservation of the VHC property. And we take our concerns to our county government.

We also look inward, using brainstorming sessions, surveys and discussions to help GCA better serve our community. The results, to name a few, include our Glencarlyn Days Friday Night Community BBQ at Carlin Hall, the Racial Equity and Inclusion (REI) Committee and the outreach programs they offer and the New Neighbor Welcome Packet.

By attending our meetings, you learn more about and participate in all that the Glencarlyn Civic Association is doing. We discuss what social events to hold, such as the Luminaria Display and Holiday Party. We decide what neighborhood projects should be presented to the county for consideration and full funding. This can include curbs, sidewalks, streetlights, and improvement of areas such as the west end of Kenmore Middle School.

We seek volunteers to coordinate with parks staff for the Spring Stream Clean-Up in Glencarlyn Park and to organize our Community Yard Sale. By attending GCA meetings, you learn what is involved in the roles of Webmaster, GCA Updates Manager and Block Captain, and why we need these key positions filled to keep the wheels turning.

We have some great speakers planned for our upcoming GCA meetings. On Dec. 6th, we welcome County Board V.P. Katie Cristol. Katie is a good friend of Glencarlyn and always listens. In February we hope to have the principals from our 3 neighboring schools to let us know how things are going. And MOST IMPORTANTLY, on April 4th, we will hold a brainstorming session to examine how to improve and "refresh" the way GCA serves the community and community members serve GCA.

In order to function properly, GCA needs each and every one of you. We need your ideas and your vision. We need your participation to thrive, now and in the years to come. Attend our GCA meetings.

Still, there is no guarantee the county manager won't look to reduce Glencarlyn Library's hours or shut it down completely in a future budget.

County policymakers rely heavily on data measuring library usage to decide on cuts. They examine: 1) how many patrons attend the library's programs; 2) how many books and physical materials are borrowed from each location; and 3) how many patrons physically enter and use the library.

The county's proposed 2022 budget listed the first two statistics in its library "Performance Measures" to bolster its case for delaying Glencarlyn's opening until July 2022 (see accompanying chart).

Statistics show that Glencarlyn Library's programs are well attended and on par with most other branch libraries. However, the number of materials borrowed at Glencarlyn falls well short of other branch libraries. During the three-year period 2017-2019, patrons borrowed 194,207 physical materials from the Glencarlyn Library, compared to 321,124 at Cherrydale, 402,371 at Aurora Hills, and 455,092 at Columbia Pike. The numbers at Shirlington and Westover are significantly higher.

These statistics make clear what we must do to prevent county leaders from putting Glencarlyn Library on the chopping block.

All materials sent from other libraries and checked out at the Glencarlyn branch count toward Glencarlyn's numbers.

It's always fun to browse Glencarlyn's new holdings, as well as bring young children to browse and select their own books. The Internet also gives us access to virtually any book or holding in Arlington's library system. Simply go online to the Arlington Public Library website and have the materials sent to Glencarlyn Library.

All materials sent from other libraries and checked out at the

First, we must continue supporting the library's programs. Equally important, we must take advantage of the library's convenient location to borrow more books and other materials.

The pandemic currently limits programs at every library. But it does not prohibit us from borrowing books and other materials.

Glencarlyn branch count toward Glencarlyn's numbers. (Materials electronically downloaded to your computer, laptop, or other devices do not count toward these numbers.)

We should not have to continue fighting to keep Glencarlyn Library open or worry about its numbers. But the reality is that Arlington decisionmakers are looking at these numbers. Therefore, we must show how much we value our neighborhood library by regularly visiting it, supporting its programs and, most of all, start borrowing more books, DVDs, and other materials.

It's free, it's convenient, and, who knows, we might even learn something new.

County Board Vice Chair Katie Cristol Speaks at Dec 6 GCA Meeting

The Speaker at our Dec 6th GCA Meeting is Katie Cristol, Vice Chair, Arlington County Board. Vice-Chair Cristol is a community advocate and public policy professional. Ms. Cristol was elected in 2015, served as Chair of the Board in 2018, and will serve as chair again beginning in January. Ms. Cristol, a good friend to Glencarlyn, will speak about board priorities for the coming year and ongoing projects affecting the Glencarlyn community. She will also listen to and address our questions and concerns. We will meet at 7:30 pm, via ZOOM. The meeting link will be provided in the Glencarlyn Updates emails. If you are not receiving the Updates, please send your name, email address, and home address to: gcaupdates@glencarlyn.org to be added to the list

GCA Meetings and Speakers in 2022

The GCA does not meet in January. However, we have some very exciting speakers and programs planned for 2022, so mark your calendars now.

Feb 7 - We will have the principals from our 3 neighboring schools, Campbell, Carlin Springs and Kenmore to give us an update on how things are going and to answer questions we might have.

Mar 7 - We will have a presentation and panel discussion about Arlington Neighborhood Village (ANV). Did you know Arlington had a non-profit organization dedicated to helping older residents continue living in their own homes safely, independently, and with an enhanced quality of life? Indeed, since 2014 this volunteer driven organization has been serving those 55 and older. Hear from members of the Glencarlyn Community who benefit from ANV and who volunteer for ANV.

Apr 4 - An IMPORTANT GCA MEETING to examine how GCA can better serve Glencarlyn and how community members can better serve GCA. (Read this month's Presidents Corner). This "brainstorming session" will give us the opportunity to discuss our vision for our civic association and share ideas about priorities. We will explore ways to enhance outreach and participation for the benefit of GCA and everyone in our community.

May 2 - Photojournalist and Glencarlyn resident Lloyd Wolf will enlighten us, in photos and words, about one of the projects he is working on. More to follow. And, of course, we will elect our officers and delegates.

Block Captains Needed

By Pete Olivere

Most of you are familiar with GCA's use of Block Captains to distribute The Village View to the 540+ homes in the neighborhood. The View has been in continuous publication for the past 70 years. Our Block Captains are the key channel in keeping our community informed about what is happening. They deliver to the 37 "blocks" within the community, which are generally both sides of the street along one block, ten times a year. Most of our Block Captains have been serving for years, and some for decades. Periodically individuals need to pass on the role of Block Captain to someone new.

This is where you come in. We currently have two openings, one for the 9 houses on S. Lancaster (off of 5th Road S. and the west side of Carlin Springs); the other is for the 12 houses on the two blocks facing Arlington Blvd. on the west side of Carlin Spring. Although it is nice if we can find someone who lives on the block being served. However, we have not had luck with that and we are opening this to anyone in the neighborhood.

Please consider taking on the Block Captain role for one of these two blocks. It doesn't take very long to deliver the Views and you will be providing an important service to your community. If you are interested, or just want to know more about it, contact Peter Olivere at polivere@aol.com or 703-626-2520. Thank you.

Neighborhood Conservation (NC) Update

By Kathy Reeder, Neighborhood Conservation Advisory Committee (NCAC) Delegate

Construction to start December 1 on 4th St. S. (S. Kensington to S. Illinois) NC street improvement project!

The contractor, A&M Concrete, provided a revised schedule with a December 1 construction start date for Glencarlyn's 4th St. S. street improvement project. Our project will be worked concurrently with another Arlington project, both of which are part of the same contract. We appreciate the efforts of the County Neighborhood Conservation staff in requesting a revised schedule. The December 1 start date was a wonderful Thanksgiving surprise!

At the pre-construction meeting on November 23, residents in the project area met the County Construction Manager (CM), Jasneet Singh, and the construction team from A&M Concrete. They got an overview of the project and were able to ask questions, particularly about impact concerns at their properties.

With the project starting just before all the winter holidays, residents in the project area may be making travel plans. While construction is active, it's a good idea to notify the construction manager before leaving town.

Schedule updates will be provided in the Village View and Glencarlyn Updates, on Glencarlyn.org, and by email to residents in the project area if there is additional information in between these regular updates. Information about the project scope is available at <https://projects.arlingtonva.us/projects/4th-street-south/>.

Please note: The Construction Manager, Ms. Singh, will be your primary point of contact during construction. You may also contact Laura Simpson at (703) 228-3813 or by e-mail at lsimpson@arlingtonva.us, for general project related questions. If you're not able to reach either of them, please contact Kathy Reeder at kathleenreeder@comcast.net.

GCA supports proposed NC project for Kenmore wooded area and nearby locations

At the November 1 meeting, GCA voted unanimously to support the proposed NC project to improve the wooded area at the west end of the Kenmore Middle School property, as well as the S. Manchester St. entrance and frontage, the 2nd St. S. dead end, and the east side of S. Manchester St. Julie Lee communicated GCA's support in a letter to the NC Program. The next step will be submitting the project for approval by the NCAC in December. Once NCAC approval is granted, a funding request will be made to the County Board. Thanks to the neighborhood for supporting this project!

For a description of the proposed project, including project history and photos, go to Glencarlyn.org under the NC Activities tab.

Please keep in mind that this proposed scope of work is not final. It is still being investigated and discussed by county staff and Arlington Public Schools (APS). As the property owner of the wooded area and adjacent locations, APS will have a major voice in deciding the final scope of work. It may not be possible to include all the ideas listed in the draft document in one NC project. Some items that GCA proposed may need to go into a future NC project or be pursued by collaboration between APS and GCA.

Please send any questions on this project to Kathy Reeder at kathleenreeder@comcast.net.

Warm Lights, Winter Nights

By Ken Rosenthal, Park Naturalist

November always feels to me like someone turned off the lights. Especially when Daylight Savings Time ends. Suddenly sunset is around 5:00pm, and it is dark before many of us get home. There's little wonder that so many of this season's holiday celebrations and traditions involve lights and candles.

It turns out that it is all about the angle.

The Earth tilts on its axis at an angle of 24.3°. From March through September the Northern Hemisphere is tilted toward the sun, and we experience spring and summer. Days reach their maximum length on the summer solstice. Right now, however, we are on the other end of this annual rotation. The Southern Hemisphere is tilted toward the sun, and our daily temperatures decrease as our days shorten. Because of this tilt, the sun appears higher in the sky in summer, and lower in winter.

This angle also affects the sun's intensity. When we are tilted toward the sun in summer, the sun's rays hit us in a more concentrated beam. As we tilt away from the sun, however, the intensity of the sun's rays is lessened. You can easily demonstrate this by holding a flashlight above a piece of paper on a flat surface. You will see a circle of light. This is the full intensity of the summer

We ask and encourage everyone to pay their GCA dues. Your dues help GCA fund various activities such as the Glencarlyn Day events, holiday parties, picnics, the Village View newsletter, the glencarlyn.org website, our Neighborhood Directory and more.

However, we are finding that as we work to increase our outreach in the community, offering more activities and programs, and as printing and supply costs continue to rise, our annual expenses are exceeding our annual income.

Your donation to GCA will help cover the cost of these new programs and price increases.

Holiday Traditions Ancient and New

by Judy Funderburk, Master Gardener

Frankincense and myrrh, mistletoe and wreaths, trees and lights: ancient and modern holiday traditions come together, blend, and become the traditions that we repeat each year with very little sense that many of these family and community rituals have ancient beginnings.

Many of us think of frankincense and myrrh as two of the three gifts brought by the Magi in the Biblical story of Jesus' birth. Actually, hundreds of years (perhaps 3000 years) before that Biblical story was told by the people of Judah or Judea in the southern part of Israel, Frankincense (Boswellia sacra) and Myrrh trees (Commiphora myrrha) were growing in Southern Arabia, Ethiopia, and Somalia where their fragrant gum-resin was harvested to become part of the spice trade transported by camel to Egypt, Persia, Syria and Rome. These gum-resins were highly desired and used as incense, perfume, and medicine. Murals depicting the import of Frankincense are found in the Egyptian tomb of Queen Hatshepsut who reigned from 1473 to about 1458 BCE.

Mistletoe was considered by the Druids and Greeks as one of the most magical and sacred plants. Both European and North American mistletoe are parasitic and cling high up in their host trees.

Most mistletoes are evergreen and easy to locate (though not so easy to harvest!) in early winter after their deciduous hosts have lost their leaves. My husband tells the story of trying to earn some money to purchase Christmas gifts by climbing high enough into an old oak to harvest the mistletoe. Looking up, logic prevailed and he took his friend's suggestion that they use a shotgun instead of getting a broken arm or shoulder. So shoot they did and the mistletoe came tumbling down. A belief in the special powers of mistletoe may have led to the custom of kissing under it with the conviction that that kiss had magic and could lead to marriage, or at least a memorable kiss.

Wreaths too have a story older than Christmas. Worn by Persian leaders as a symbol of authority, they were later a part of the Roman celebration of the pagan feast day named Saturnalia, celebrated on December 25, the day of the winter solstice on the ancient Roman calendar. Today many see the circular shape and evergreen material symbolically, as a representation of eternal life. It can also be representative of faith, as Christians around the world place candles on the wreath during Advent to symbolize the light that Jesus brought into the world. Others see a wreath on the front door as a friendly welcome to those who enter.

Trees and Lights and Gift-giving: Long before the advent of Christianity, plants and trees that remained green all year had special meaning for people experiencing the cold and dark of winter. Just as we today decorate our homes during the holiday season with pine, spruce, and fir, ancient peoples hung evergreen boughs over their doors and windows. In many countries it was believed that evergreens would keep away witches, ghosts, evil spirits, and illness.

A Time magazine article dated December 20, 2020 printed "the image of a decorated Christmas tree with presents underneath [as having] a very specific origin: an engraving of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert and their children gathering around a Christmas tree, eyeing the presents underneath, published in the Illustrated London News in 1848. The premier women's magazine in America back then, Godey's Lady's Book, reprinted a version of the image a couple of years later as 'The Christmas Tree'."

Does the tradition of gift-giving over the holiday season date back to the Magi story of gold, frankincense, and myrrh brought to the infant Jesus, or perhaps to earlier stories describing the generosity of St. Nicholas, the Bishop of Myra, who died in 345AD and became the patron saint of Christmas? We may never know for sure, but are grateful for the traditional stories, even as we create our own.

Myrrhy Christmas and Happy Holidays to all from your Library Garden coordinators.

A new report from CoreLogic reveals home prices are up 18% since this time last year.

The demand for homes is significantly greater than the current supply that's available to buy, which is driving the increase. From Q2 2020 to Q2 2021, the average home appreciation was 17.4% nationwide. The supply of homes for sale will greatly affect where prices go in the coming months.

Experts forecast prices will continue to increase to only 5% in 2022. Buyers hoping to purchase in the future may see this as great news. Now a slight moderation of home prices does not mean values will depreciate or fall. Price increases may occur at a slower pace, but experts still expect them to rise.

This lack of homes for sale is creating a challenge for many buyers who are growing frustrated in their search. On the other hand, this is a huge opportunity for sellers as low supply is driving up home values. According to CoreLogic, the average home has appreciated by more than $50,000 over the past year. And for many homeowners, that's opening new doors as they re-think their needs and use their equity to move up or downsize.

Are you living in your ideal home now? If you are thinking of a new lifestyle, I'm glad to help you research and discuss options. Put my 36 years of local Arlington market expertise to work for you and your largest financial investment! Contact me for a confidential consulting session.
