Volunteers NEEDED! Glencarlyn Days COMING June 3 and 4

Glencarlyn Days is coming SOON!! The neighborhood's biggest event of the year will be held June 3 and 4. This year we have a full schedule planned. Friday Night June 3rd is the Community BBQ at Carlin Hall, where we will provide the burgers, hotdogs, sides and beverages for a suggested donation. There will be games and activities. And a 50/50 raffle.

Saturday morning June 4 will begin with our Pancake Breakfast at Shelter #2 in Glencarlyn Park 8-10 am. $5/person $15/family. A Park Naturalist will have an exciting animal presentation. Breakfast will be followed by our Glencarlyn Day Parade. This year's theme is a "Happy Birthday to EVERYONE!", for all those who missed out on celebrating during Covid. Wear costumes and decorate your bikes, strollers, wagons. We will have balloons and decorations on the grounds of St Johns prior to the parade. And look for information from Courtney Holmes about possible float building!

Following the parade will be a Storytime at the Library, then hopefully a moon bounce and snow cones at Carlin Hall. Our Annual Tour of Homes is Returning along with tours of the Community Library Garden and Ball Sellers House.

We will be collecting GCA DUES, $15/year, and selling Glencarlyn apparel at the BBQ and Breakfast.

WE NEED LOTS OF VOLUNTEERS! The success of our many Glencarlyn Days activities depends on YOUR PARTICIPATION. SIGN UP using the Sign-Up Genius: <https://bit.ly/3EoLtGR> or contact Courtney Homes: courtneyleeholmes@gmail.com or Julie Lee: jfblee@aol.com. We especially need people with trucks to transport equipment and supplies to and from Glencarlyn Park. If you can help in any way, even if only for a couple hours, please sign up. How exciting to think about this important community event!

A flyer with more detailed information will be delivered to your door a few weeks prior!

ATTEND the IN-PERSON GCA MEETING May 2 Glencarlyn Library 6:00-8:00 pm Be Part of the Conversation, Be Part of the GROWTH

We hope to see as many people as possible as we examine our vision for our civic association and share ideas about priorities. We will quickly conduct our business, to include the election of officers for the coming year. Then we will identify issues of importance and methods to enhance outreach and participation. We will address ways in which the GCA can better serve the residents of Glencarlyn and identify how the residents of Glencarlyn can do more to support GCA. This meeting will NOT be held via zoom.

First, Complete the Survey on the back of the April Village View or use the QR code on the right to complete it online. Bring the paper survey to this important IN-Person GCA meeting on May 2nd, or return the survey to the box in Glencarlyn Library.

President's Corner

Each and Every One of You

By Julie Lee, GCA President

This year is off to a roaring start. The Neighborhood Directory was printed and delivered to each household. The Glencarlyn apparel website is up and taking orders - deadline May 4. We are collecting your thoughts and opinions in our Neighborhood Survey. We cleaned the Four Mile Run and Long Branch streams and celebrated Spring with fun activities at Carlin Hall. Honestly, I am exhausted. And we look ahead to the May 2 GCA Brainstorming meeting at the Library, the Community Yard Sale May 14 and the Glencarlyn Days weekend June 3-4.

We need more people to take positions of leadership and participate in our neighborhood activities. The slate of officers and delegates we will elect on May 2 is filled entirely with incumbents. Our treasurer has held the position for almost 20 years. Fortunately, this year we have people willing to continue. However, we need to look ahead. I suggested at the April GCA meeting that it would be good for any potential president (and we DO need to find a new one) to shadow me for a year to learn the position and all that it encompasses. This would also be a good idea for anyone interested in, or curious about, other positions. How important to shadow V.P. Courtney Holmes as she organizes Glencarlyn Days weekend or Luminaria. Serving as an alternate to the Civic Federation you become familiar with the work our delegates are doing. And there are other non-electable positions we are looking to fill. In some cases, our leaders hold more than one position. We are looking for someone to take over as Area Chair/Block Captain Coordinator. (More about this position in another article.) I currently hold the position of volunteer coordinator. We have standing committees outlined in our bylaws that remain unfilled.

We can do better. If everyone does their part, things do not become overwhelming. However, when a few people are asked to do the majority of the work, it can become intolerable and burnout occurs. I recognize that we all have busy lives. This is where teamwork can provide a solution. The perfect example is our new GCA Update manager team. Though they did not know each other previously, Rachel Porter and Xi Chen are working together in concert to provide our much-needed Updates. They have each other as back-ups, and former Updates manager Doug Leroy is right there behind them.

Please do not hesitate to volunteer because you think you do not have the time, or because you are new to the community, or because you are retired and travel. We need each and every one of you to keep our Civic Association moving forward. VOLUNTEER.

Professor, Lawyer to Address Anti-Asian Discrimination at GCA-sponsored Zoom May 12;
Registration Required

On Thursday, May 12, from 7 to 8:30 p.m., two eminent national figures will speak at the GCA-sponsored webinar on "Addressing Anti-Asian Discrimination."

One is Jennifer Ho, professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado (Boulder) and president of the Association for Asian American Studies.

The other is John Yang, president and executive director of Asian Americans Advancing Justice | AAAJ, and a former official in the Obama Administration,

Prof. Ho and Mr. Yang will focus their presentations on the history of discrimination against Asians in the U.S. and how that bias is manifest today in subtle ways as well as in more overt instances of violence directed at Asian Americans.

Members of the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions of the presenters as well as share their own experiences as victims or observers of discrimination directed at Asian Americans.

In addition to her academic work, Prof. Ho is active in community engagement around issues of race and intersectionality, leading workshops on anti-racism and how to talk about race in the current social climate.

Mr. Yang, an attorney, is a co-founder of the Asian Pacific American Legal Resource Center, a nonprofit organization dedicated to addressing the direct service legal needs of Asian Pacific Americans in the D.C. metropolitan area. He currently leads the AAAJ's effort to foster civil rights and empower Asian Americans to create a more just America for all through public policy advocacy, education, and litigation.

This event is the latest in a series organized by the CGA's Racial Equity and Inclusion Committee over the past two years.

Participants must register in advance to receive the Zoom link, which will be provided a day or two before the event. To register, scan the QR code with your smart phone camera or visit <https://bit.ly/3E2k4dF>

Ball-Sellers House in May

By Annette Benbow, Arlington Historical Society

The Ball-Sellers House opened on April 2 with a Colonial Games Festival. More than 40 people came out to play graces, throw corn cob darts, roll hoops, and eat sweet treats just like the five daughters of John and Elizabeth Ball would have in the 1700s. On April 30 local historian Kevin Vincent led the annual George Washington's Forest history Walk that starts at the Ball-Sellers House.

In May, the fun continues as the team of volunteers from the Arlington Historical Society plans a Wine and Wisteria wine tasting. At publication time of this newsletter, the date is still up in the air, but we do know that we will have wine tasting and a brief talk about the history of wine making in Virginia. Stay tuned for more and for ticket sales.

Archaeologically speaking, the Northern Virginia Chapter of the Archaeological Society of Virginia unearthed something REALLY BIG at the Ball-Sellers House. It's a walkway laid by Will Powell before 1927. The walkway was made of flat stones, each surrounded by cement and an adjacent line of handmade bricks laid in cement. The bricks likely came from the chimney dismantled when the easternmost section was torn down in 1915. The walkway goes from the house to Mr. Powell's garage/workshop (the structure is now on the neighbor's property). Next time you're walking by, stop and take a look.

The 100+ year-old wisteria will be in bloom in May. It is more difficult to predict its peak bloom than the cherry blossoms but it could make for a beautiful and fragrant evening when combined with history and wine tasting.

The Ball-Sellers House looks forward to special events all season long. We're open every Saturday afternoon from 1-4 pm for free do- cent guided tours. Step back in history to the colonial era and try to imagine what life was like before this was Glencarlyn.

GCA Officer Elections May 2

The Nominating Committee (Steve LeSueur, Barbara Martinez, and Kathy Reeder) present the following slate of candidates to lead the GCA for the coming year (July 1, 2022 – June 30, 2023), in accordance with Article V, Section 7 of the GCA bylaws. The election will take place at the May 2 GCA meeting. As of April 10, there were two openings for Arlington County Civic Federation Alternates. If any candidates for these positions express interest prior to the May 2 meeting, they will be added to the slate. Additional candidates for all elected positions may be nominated “from the floor” at the meeting, with the consent of the nominee.

Area Chair/Block Captain Coordinator Needed for Village View

GCA is seeking a volunteer to assume the Area Chair/Block Captain Coordinator role currently held by Pete Olivere. This unelected position is key to Village View distribution. The Coordinator assists the Village View editor by maintaining the list of Area Chair and Block Captain contact information, sending out periodic communications to them, and helping recruit for replacements should a vacancy occur. If you are interested in finding out more about this position, please contact Kathy Reeder at kathleenreeder@comcast.net.

Neighborhood Conservation (NC) Update

Neighborhood Conservation (NC) Update

By Kathy Reeder, Neighborhood Conservation Advisory Committee (NCAC) Delegate

Final asphalt paving work still needed on 4th St. S. improvement project

Sidewalk, curb and gutter, and driveway apron concrete work is now complete. New “No Parking” signs have been installed. Final asphalt paving is the final step of the hardscape work, but specific dates for this had not been set as of April 11. Once all hardscape work is finished, striping on the pavement will be completed.

Replacement grass sod has been installed, and replacement plants and street trees will be installed in the fall planting season. Jill Yutan, NC Program Landscape Architect, will work with property owners to finalize their plant selections from the list available under the County on-call landscaper’s contract. Residents should contact Jill at jyutan@arlingtonva.us if they need replacement plants. Once the hardscape work is complete, property owners will be emailed to let them know if street trees are planned for installation in the grass strip in front of their properties.

Residents in and near the project area continue their wonderful cooperation with the project’s disruption, including the need to find new locations to park their cars. Thank you yet again for your ongoing support of this project!

For any questions or concerns regarding construction, please reach out to the County’s Construction Manager, Jasneet K. Singh, at 703-228-3661 or jsingh@arlingtonva.us. If you are not able to reach Ms. Singh, please contact Laura Simpson, at lsimpson@arlingtonva.us. If you are unable to reach these contacts, please email Kathy Reeder at kathleenreeder@comcast.net

Schedule updates will be provided in the Village View and Glencarlyn Updates, on Glencarlyn.org, and by email to residents in the project area if there is additional information in between these regular updates.

Work underway on NC Project for Kenmore wooded area and nearby locations

This project is to improve the wooded area at the west end of the Kenmore property (from the dead end to the edge of the ball field), as well as the S. Manchester St. entrance and frontage, the 2nd St. S. dead end, and the east side of S. Manchester St.

A consulting firm hired by the county is working on a tree survey. They will provide a plan and a spreadsheet with the tree inventory data. Trees larger than a four-inch caliper measurement will be marked with tags.

Carlin Springs has expressed interest in the planned improvements, especially a pollinator garden.

Engineers are reviewing information provided by the surveyor reports and will be coordinating with other offices, such as transportation and stormwater. This will lead to refinement of the draft plan, as was anticipated when the project was approved and funded. Some items that GCA proposed may need to go into a future NC project or be pursued by collaboration between APS and GCA. As the plan is refined, more information will be provided about the scope of work.

Please send any questions on this project to Kathy Reeder.

For a detailed description of the proposed project, including project history and photos, go to Glencarlyn.org under the NC Activities tab.

Four Mile Run / Long Branch Stream Clean Up

More than two dozen Glencarlyn neighbors and friends from surrounding neighborhoods attended our annual Four Mile Run Stream Clean Up. We collected twenty-five bags of trash from Four Mile Run, Long Branch, and Glencarlyn Park and finished off the event with a Hotdog and Marshmallow Roast

Special thanks to Andy Gillette , Matt Sickbert, and Brandon Hemel for organizing logistics and managing the BBQs.

View from the Garden

Have you seen the Mayapples?

by Judy Funderburk, Extension Master Gardener

Photos by Elaine Mills & Judy Funderburk

They await you in the native Shade Garden under the Red-bud tree, on the right side of the brick walk as you enter from 3rd Street. Pushing up from the earth like little umbrellas for fairy folk, Mayapples (Latin botanical name: Podophyllum peltatum) are common to every county in Virginia. They are known as Mayapples because they bloom in May with a single white usually six-petaled flower. If the flower is pollinated (primarily by bumble bees), the fruit of that blossom, the "apple," will form in late summer. Only plants that grow two leaves will develop a blossom and consequently the fruit, which hangs down between the two leaves. This greenish yellow fruit is eaten and the seeds dispersed through the digestive systems of box turtles, a circuitous journey which seems to enhance seed propagation or at least distribution. Mayapples also propagate by growing extensive rhizomes. Our Mayapples started out with just three such rhizomes purchased at the Nature Center Plant Sale about 10 years ago.

[An aside: On a native plant walk with Alonso Abugattas (former director of our Long Branch Nature Center and now Arlington County Natural Resources Director), I asked him how box turtles managed to reach up and get the "apples?" He replied, "They mow the plants down!" This memory always makes me smile.]

Though the entire plant except the fruit is poisonous, it is also medicinal, containing high concentrations of podophyllotoxin and alpha and beta peltatin, all of which are used in chemotherapy to fight various cancers, including lymphoma, testicular cancer, lung cancer, and ovarian cancer.

Long before modern medicine discovered its useful properties, First Nations tribespeople used the Mayapple rhizome medicinally. They would dry the rhizomes, grind them into a powder, and administer them as laxatives or to get rid of intestinal worms. It was also used to get rid of warts and skin tumors. But don't try this yourself. The University of North Carolina Horticultural Science Department advises: "HIGHLY TOXIC, MAY BE FATAL IF EATEN!"

Besides the patch residing in the Library Garden, you can find Mayapples growing in the woods around the Nature Center and on the left of the steeply sloped hillside before you reach the Long Branch shelter. Thanks to our ivy-pulling neighbor Steve Young, Mayapples are reclaiming parts of the Glencarlyn forest and multiplying beautifully.

Spring is one long beautiful cycle of emergence, growth, coming to fullness, and change. When you receive this May issue of the View, daffodils will have already had their day in the sun. The deep reddish-pink flower clusters of the redbud may or may not still be dressing its trunks and branches. But no matter the moment, color, scent, and birdsong greet us and decorate the Garden, putting a spring in our steps and smiles on our faces. What a blessing it is to live near a garden in a place that has changing seasons!

Will Increasing Mortgage Rates Cause Home Prices to Fall?

While some people may believe a 1% to 2% increase in mortgage rates will impact demand so dramatically that home prices will have to fall, experts say otherwise. Doug Duncan, Senior Vice President and Chief Economist at Fannie Mae, says: "What I will caution against is making the inference that interest rates have a direct impact on house prices. That is not true." Freddie Mac studied the impact that mortgage rates increasing by at least 1% has had on home prices in the past. Here are the results of that study:

The Impact of Rising Rates on Home Prices

Changes When Mortgage Rates Increase by More Than 1%

Start Date	End Date	Months	Increase	Home Prices
Oct 1993	Dec 1994	14	2.38%	+3%
Jan 1996	Sept 1996	8	1.2%	+2%
Oct 1998	May 2000	19	1.81%	+13%
