Celebrate the Holidays December 9 and 10

By Julie Lee

There is a lot happening in our neighborhood on Saturday, December 9 and Sunday, December 10 to celebrate the holidays. We hope you are part of the festivities.

- Purchase your Luminaria Kits at Carlin Hall on Saturday, December 10, 10:00 am–2:00 pm. A package of 10 candles, bags, and sand is $7.00 and will cover the frontage of a 50/60 ft lot.
- Light your Luminaria at dusk.
- Walk through the neighborhood and admire the Luminaria and the holiday lights on the homes.
- Greet your neighbors and celebrate at the Holiday Party in the Library parking lot, 6:00–7:30 pm. Warm beverages and sweet treats will be served, and there will be a surprise visitor at 6:30pm!

WE NEED VOLUNTEERS TO HELP with ALL of THESE ACTIVITIES. SignUpGenius: bit.ly/GCALuminaria2023

-December 16 is the RAIN DATE for the Luminaria festivities.

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND: COMMUNITY CAROLING, Sunday, December 10, 7:00 pm at St John's Church.

Share in the joy of caroling together with your neighbors. We will meet and sing holiday tunes in the church accompanied by piano. We will provide carol sheets and an opportunity for song suggestions. This is a great family event. Following the singing, there will holiday treats and beverages and plenty of time to visit. Even if you do not wish to participate in the singing, please come, listen and be part of the merry music-making.

There is no rain date needed for this event.

Holiday decorations in the neighborhood.

For more information about these events, see the November Village View or the GCA Updates email.

Important Glencarlyn Library Community Survey 2023

The Glencarlyn Civic Association is conducting an important survey to gain a better understanding of what we can do to make our library more useful and relevant to our community's needs. Your input and opinions are critical to helping us identify ways we can increase use of the library's resources and offer new value to you and your neighbors.

For the past 100 years, our Branch Library has enjoyed widespread support. A high rate of response will serve to demonstrate that support remains strong today. Thank you in advance for your participation. Using the link or QR code, please complete this short survey by December 10th.

No personally identifiable information (PII) is collected in this survey.

Adrian Stanton, VHC Health, at December 4 GCA Meeting

We are very pleased that Adrian Stanton, V.P., Business Development and Community Relations at VHC Health, will join us Monday, December 4, to give us an update and discuss plans for the Behavioral Wellness facility to be built on the property at 601 S. Carlin Springs Rd. VHC Health expects to submit initial plans to the County in early 2024.

Demolition and regrading of the former hospital site was completed this fall. Glencarlyn, Forest Glen, and Arlington Mill civic associations continue to communicate with VHC Health, County Board members, and the Animal Welfare League of Arlington regarding future development of the property.

We will hear the latest information and have an opportunity to ask questions. Plan to attend Monday, December 4, at 7:30 pm in Carlin Hall.

A Safe and Secure Holiday Season

By Julie Lee

At this time of year, we are reminded of the importance of home and personal security. Daylight hours are shorter, packages are being delivered, many of us are travelling. We must look out for our neighbors and ourselves.

In the last few months, there have been some concerning incidents in our community. In September, ACPD responded to a report of shots fired in Glencarlyn Park, near our "pancake pavilion." There were no injuries, no property damage, no arrests. In October a verbal dispute on our streets escalated into a malicious knife wounding. One person was taken to the hospital, one person was arrested. Neither of these incidents involved Glencarlyn residents. One neighborhood home has been repeatedly "egged." The fire department investigated a "mattress fire in a home occupied by multiple unrelated adults" as a possible arson.

It is disheartening, and somewhat frightening, to hear of these incidents in our quiet community. Crime is up across the County. I am continually impressed with the professionalism and compassion shown by the members of our Arlington County Police and Fire departments. They are quick to respond to emergencies. They strive to build strong bonds with our community. I spoke with ACPD Corporal Juan Montoya and ACFD Lt. Ryan Murphy about these recent incidents. Our first responders are here to serve us.

There are several steps we can take to increase our safety. Keep car doors and windows locked at all times and valuables out of sight, even in your driveway. Be extra cautious about locking doors, sliders, and windows when leaving your house for any length of time. Keep your house secured while you're at home, as well. If a person knocks at your door and you don't recognize them, don't feel obligated to open it. Ensure that dark areas and entrances have outdoor lights that are turned on after dark or are activated by sensors. Make sure packages do not pile up on your front stoop. Whenever you are walking, whether in our neighborhood after dark, in a parking lot, or at a shopping mall, walk with intent and be acutely aware of your surroundings.

The holidays are a good time to get to know your neighbors. This includes the people who live next door, across the street and over the back fence. Neighbors watching out for neighbors make communities safer. If you will be travelling over the holidays, notify a trusted neighbor. Ask them to keep an eye on your house and report any suspicious activity. Set indoor and outdoor lights on timers. And don't advertise your travel plans on social media.

Fire hazards increase during the holidays. Decorate safely and watch out for "fire starters." Throw out frayed and old lighting, turn off your holiday lights when you are sleeping or away from home. Again, timers are a good idea. Keep an eye on your candles and decorated trees, especially real trees. Replace the batteries in your smoke alarms.

With some thoughtfulness, we can have a safer, more secure holiday season. Looking forward to seeing everyone at the Luminaria and Holiday Party on December 9!

“Stumbling Stones” Installed at Ball-Sellers House to Honor People Enslaved There

Adapted from stories by the Arlington Historical Society and the Black Heritage Museum of Arlington. Special thanks to neighbor Tim Aiken for inspiring this project with his research, which has been published by the Arlington Historical Society.

On October 28, the Arlington Historical Society (AHS) and the Black Heritage Museum of Arlington (BHMA) dedicated their first three “stumbling stones,” or commemorative markers, honoring the lives of three individuals once enslaved at what is now the Ball-Sellers House:

- Nancy, born ca. 1775 and died sometime between 1835 and 1838.
- Male (name unknown), born ca. 1806 and whose date of death is unknown.
- Male (name unknown), born 1844 and whose date of death is unknown.

These first commemorative markers are the result of the AHS/BHMA history project Memorializing the Enslaved in Arlington, 1669-1865, which is committed to recovering historical truths and restoring the humanity of enslaved individuals.

Very few records exist in Arlington that document enslaved individuals and even fewer provide names. Yet, after two years of research, Memorializing the Enslaved in Arlington has shed light on these early Americans who contributed so much to the agricultural, infrastructural, and cultural development of our county.

Glencarlyn resident Tim Aiken inspired the joint history project with his own research. In 2021, Tim read an article in the Washington Post by Michelle Norris entitled “Germany Faced Its Terrible Past. Can We Do the Same?” Norris proposed marking locations where slavery occurred with “stumbling stones” like the ones used in Germany to honor Holocaust victims. Tim began researching the history of slavery in Arlington, and confirmed the presence of enslaved people held by the Carlin family. (See Tim’s articles on local history in the March and April 2021 Village Views, available at glencarlyn.org.)

Arlington Neighborhoods Program (ANP) Update

By Kathy Reeder

Arlington Neighborhoods Advisory Committee (ArNAC) Delegate

Design Work Moves toward completion on Kenmore Wooded Area Project

This project will improve the wooded area at the west end of the Kenmore Middle School property, as well as the S. Manchester St. entrance and frontage, the 2nd St. S. dead end, and the east side of S. Manchester St. Ryan Donlon, Glencarlyn resident whose home is adjacent to the project area, is the block representative.

A Final Design Meeting was scheduled in November to review the 90% design with residents on the block next to the project area and representatives from Carlin Springs Elementary School and Kenmore Middle School. The 100% design was scheduled for completion at the end of November. Once the final plans are approved (January 2024), procurement and construction are expected to take place from February through September 2024.

A plan showing the 60% design, which is still evolving, is posted on Glencarlyn.org under ANP Projects. After the plantings are established, neighborhood volunteers will be responsible for maintaining them and several neighbors have already volunteered to do this.

As the design work moves toward completion, there will be further refinement, as was anticipated when the project was approved and funded. Some items that GCA originally proposed may need to go into a future ANP project or be pursued by collaboration between APS and GCA. More information will be provided about the scope of the project when the plan is finalized.

IPC, the invasive control contractor hired by Arlington County, will complete the final treatment next summer. Signs will be posted when the treatment takes place and the area being treated will be safe to enter.

Wetland Studies and Solutions, a consulting firm hired by the county, has completed a tree survey. The plan is to evaluate existing trees for removal, pruning or retention once the invasive treatments are complete.

For a description of the proposed project, including project history and photos and the 60% design plan, go to Glencarlyn.org, click on ANP Projects in the main menu, and scroll down to Kenmore Wooded Area, South Manchester St. & 2nd St. South.

Please send any questions on this project to Kathy Reeder at kathleenreeder@comcast.net.

Doggie Corner

By Sheridan Swope

This month we feature Ewan. Named after Ewan McGregor, the movie star who plays Obi-Wan Kenobi in Star Wars, Ewan is an 8-year-old Welsh Terrier from a breeder in Charlottesville. Ewan lives at 5717 2nd St. with Terese Bull. He is friends with Bennett and Ellie, Abby, Everett, and Mabel—who rolls tennis balls to him through the spaces in their shared fence!

Ewan loves toys, and barks when looking out the window. Ewan likes watching TV, especially dramas with families that have dogs or cats popping up now & then, old black & white musicals where people are dancing, cartoons, and horse races. He's watched The Wizard of Oz a lot. Ewan is hilarious and fun. Say hello to Ewan!

Glencarlyn has a lot of dogs! As a means to promote community spirit, this column will introduce you to dogs of Glencarlyn and their owners. If you would like your dog to be featured in Glencarlyn Doggie Corner, contact Sheridan at swopes123@gmail.com.

A New Resource for Your Garden: A Seed Library

By Alyssa Ford Morel

If you've walked through the Library's portico in the past few weeks, you may have noticed a new cabinet with the words "Seed Library" on the front. In cooperation with the librarians, the coordinators of the Glencarlyn Library Community Garden are introducing a new resource for gardeners. The seed library has been designed to provide local gardeners with a source of free local seeds for use in their own home gardens.

The new seed library in the Glencarlyn Library portico is free for all to use. Photo by Alyssa Ford Morel

"The idea was brought to us by Mia Musolino, a West Virginia gardener who started a similar seed library successfully in her town," says Paul Nuhn, one of the Glencarlyn Garden Coordinators. "She explained the concept and generously helped us with a design for the seed packets."

For several weeks, Master Gardeners have been gathering and packaging seeds from the Library Garden and their homes, to create a starting inventory. Long-term, however, they hope the inventory will also include seeds from neighbors and other users, too. Empty seed packets are available for users to take home, and a QR code allows users to print more at home.

"We're inviting neighbors to contribute seeds either from their own plants or seeds that they may have purchased too many of," says Nuhn. "All the seeds need to be properly labeled with both the common name and the botanical name."

Seeds currently available are divided into six categories: Herbs; Vegetables; Cover Crops and Edible Seeds; Native Annuals, Biennials and Perennials; Non-Native Annuals, Biennials and Perennials; and Shrubs, Trees and Vines. Those categories may change with time as seeds are available. Users are asked to take a maximum of five seed packs, and to take only seeds they intend to grow.

On the Master Gardener of Northern Virginia website, there is more information about starting seeds, including a chart compiled by Garden Coordinator Elaine Mills with specific information about starting many of the seeds currently in the Library, as well as other links with helpful information. That information can be accessed via the QR code on the Seed Library (reproduced at left) or at <https://mgnv.org/demo-gardens/glencarlyn/glencarlyn-library-community-garden-seed-library/>

Herbal Sachets

December 9

2:00 – 3:30 p.m.

Enjoy the scent while preventing moths!

Join Master Gardener Judy Funderburk to learn how to create a herbal sachet. Then build your own by choosing from a variety of fabrics and scented dried herbs to fit your needs. They make a great holiday gift, but you may want to keep yours under your pillow to help you sleep! Herbal sachets can be used to keep the moths away, but they are also perfect for adding a pleasant smell to a drawer, a closet, or the interior of your car.

No registration required. Attendance is first-come, first-served until event capacity is reached.

Glencarlyn Read Aloud Players

December 9

12:00 – 2:00 p.m.

Help us bring our read-aloud dreams to life in a fun and informal setting!

Reading can be solitary (and silent), but reading a play out loud with a group of friends and community members can bring reading to life!

Join us for a live reading of Karel Čapek's 1920 Science Fiction Play Rossum's Universal Robots at the Glencarlyn Library.

Mondays: Stop in for Stories at Glencarlyn

December 4 & December 11

5:30pm - 6:00pm

For families with children of all ages

Stop In for Stories is for children of all ages and an accompanying adult. This fun and interactive program combines activities such as read-aloud stories, songs, rhymes and fingerplays and introduces children to listening skills, picture books, the library, and the joy of reading.

The Ball-Sellers House is the first property in Arlington to have a commemorative marker to the enslaved. The oldest house in Arlington, it is owned and operated as a free museum by AHS. It is located at 5620 3rd Street South in Glencarlyn.

The Carlin family bought the Ball-Sellers House from the estate of John Ball in 1772 and various family members lived there until 1887. Elizabeth Carlin, the widow of William, who was the first Carlin owner, enslaved Nancy and an unnamed male there in the 1820s. Her probate records reveal that Nancy, as an old woman, “waited on” Elizabeth until Elizabeth’s death in 1834. The 1850 census tells us that Letitia Carlin, the widow of James (son of William and second Carlin owner of the house), enslaved the second unnamed male. Carlin is the namesake of Glencarlyn, one of the oldest neighborhoods in the county.
